

CORTESE

Corten stool

DESCRIPTION

Cortese is the bar stool that combines corten steel with Lecce stone, ductile and clear. The seat of the stool reminds the traditional woolen cloths in intertwined straw. It is transposed into the world of stone processing. Together with geometric cuts on burnished sheet, this variation of material and characteristic peculiarities render the seat original and interesting.

The lower shelf, as well as a footrest, becomes a shelf for personal objects during pleasant breaks at the bar with a good company or friends. At customer's request, the stool could be combined with tables and high tabletops, including a lower version.
